

CARRY CONTEST ON WILL BEFORE DISTRICT JUDGE

Relatives of Aged Recluse, Who Died Near Wilton, Contest Instrument

$15,000 ESTATE INVOLVED

Death of Peter Larson, Found in Lonely Shack With Cats, Attracted Wide Interest

An appeal to the district court from the order of the county judge upholding a will made by Peter Larson, aged recluse, who died in his lonely home near Wilton, was heard before Judge Nussle today. Larson's body was found in his home, partly decomposed. It had been attacked by a large number of cats which he kept there.

The appeal from the decision of Judge Davies is taken by Elan Topp Larson, Hilma Larson, nee Olson, Frieda Olson and Sigrid Larson, nee Olson, relatives in Sweden.

The will of Larson, disposing of about $15,000 worth of property, was made on January 29, 1900. Judge Davies found that he had entertained a firm belief at that time that his sister in the old country had divided the property left by his father and mother and had given him no portion of it, and at the time of execution of the will by which Miss Erickson, a neighbor, who had assisted him in farm work and housekeeping, was made beneficiary, had said that his relatives in Sweden should not receive any of the property. Larson died in October, 1919.

BANK EMPLOYEES HOLD REUNION

First National Bank Annual Dinner is Held

Twenty-six employees and former employees of the First National bank gathered at a dinner last night to observe the annual reunion of the employees of the institution and to give farewell greetings to James Murray and David Cook, employees of the bank for the last year, who are leaving Monday to enter the University of North Dakota.

Former employees of the bank maintain their interest in the annual reunions fully as much as the present employees, regarding themselves as "alumni" of one of the oldest institutions in Bismarck, the First National being established in 1879.

A. S. Bolster was master of ceremonies at the elaborate six-course dinner served in the McKee's roof garden dining room. The program was one of good fellowship and entirely informal. Mr. Bolster, after reminding the two leaving employees of the bank who are leaving for college that the daily life would be changed considerably, that there were many things they ought to know and would learn, also spoke of the things that they ought not to know, and as a satire on the famous Edison questionaire he announced the program would be "What You Ought Not to Know." Questions of unusual nature were asked the various persons about the banquet table, and answers were asked. An answer failing to be received, the question was passed to the next one.

NEW TREATIES TO GO THROUGH IN U. S. SENATE

White House Accepts Reservations and Sen. Johnson Says League is Killed

EARLY ACTION SOUGHT

Washington, Sept. 24.—President Harding in a letter to Senator Lodge, Republican leader, read in the senate today, when consideration of the treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary was begun said the pact would put aside the lust for war relations and bring a return to peace.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Indications that the new treaties negotiated by the administration with Germany, Austria and Hungary will be speedily ratified by the senate appear favorable notwithstanding the opposition of Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, as a result of intimidation from the White House that President Harding does not regard with disfavor the reservations recommended yesterday by the senate foreign relations committee and the statement of Senator Johnson, Republican, California, that the treaty as reported out of committee sufficiently safeguarded America from European entanglements and repudiates the league of nations.

When a room is crowded, children, living (nearest) another building where the enrollment is smaller in that grade, have to be transferred, so that the teacher may not be overworked, and the pupils may have a fairer chance.

SEEING IS BELIEVING

Fabrics fashioning Autumn's Frocks, Suits and Coats, deserve especial scrutiny.

Coat and suit materials of Wandia, Marvella, Fawnskyn, Panvelaine and Duvet de Laine are gorgeous with hues as subtle and delicate as nature's own—Modes adapted from the Chinese, Greeks and Spanish present a most bewitching result.

The new frocks either for matron or miss are unquestionably black, that is, if they're not black and white. There is no neglect of brown, however, and the most vivid hues; while for street wear, navy blue retains its chic.

Elaborateness of beading, embroidering and exquisite silk pet-als or wheels are generally used.

Reviving the romantic Picture Hat of olden days and bringing into play a decided Spanish influence the hat of larger proportions sounds the keynote of Autumn Dress Occasion.

Recent importations of French blouses are on display in our blouse section. We are specializing on larger sizes.

"Big business" has no sentiment. Influence won't get you a job. Proper training will. In Fargo, N. D., every wholesale house but one employs graduates of Dakota Business College, of that city. UP NORTH

Montreal is so swamped with thirsty Americans, that it is rushing construction of a $9,000,000 emergency hotel.

Many wonders in quaint old Montreal that the thirsty will foolishly neglect to visit.

They're too late to see Big John Canadian, famous Indian, in action. He used to shoot the La-chine Rapids of the St. Lawrence river in a canoe every year. No one else ever could do it. Big John can't now. He's too old.

But tourists into Montreal should see Notre Dame, largest cathedral on the North American continent. Also the Chateau de Ramezay, from which England once ruled Americans. Ben Franklin used to go up there on horseback to register kicks. They still exhibit Ben's pet chair and his long clay pipe.

American curiosity about northern firewater is going to do a lot toward making Yanks and Canucks acquainted with each other.

And the thirsty are just a drop in the bucket, for preliminary reports show that close to 1,000,000 Americans will have crossed the line into Canada in 1921.

More should go. More Canadians should visit the States. Neighbors should know each other. Then, too, the younger generation in English hot-beds like Toronto are privately discussing the possibility of Canada eventually breaking away from the British empire and coming under the American flag.

Canada produces 85 per cent of the world's nickel, 90 per cent of its cobalt, 88 per cent of its asbestos, 32 per cent of its pulpwood, 20 per cent of its lumber, 20 per cent of its cured fish, 12 per cent of its silver, 4 per cent of its gold and same of copper.

Twelve out of every 100 bushels of wheat in the world are grown from Canada. Its climate isn't all as cold as the movies picture. For instance, Canada last year grew 20,000,000 pounds of tobacco.

Canada has more square miles of territory than continental United States.

The two countries have been at peace for over a century, despite an unfortified frontier more than 3000 miles long. That couldn't happen anywhere else in the world.

Something for the disarmament conference to ponder.

World peace is a matter of good neighbors. Canada and the United States point the way.

HOBOES

The Hoboes' Union, through its secretary, L. Francis Shea, offers its aid to Secretary of Labor Davis to solve the unemployment problem.

Tramps have solved the problem of high passenger rates. Maybe they could help solve the unemployment problem by telling us their system of dodging work, then we could reverse the system.

GERMANY

Germany is the only important country where we are steadily increasing our export business. An instance: In the first seven months this year we shipped Germany 832,291 bales of cotton against 288,383 bales in corresponding months of 1920.

It's another indication that Germany rapidly is getting back on its feet.

TAXES

Corporation taxes will not be cut before the end of the year, says the Senate finance committee. Sad news for the big fellows who wanted the cut retroactive to Jan. 1, 1921, to reduce taxes on this year's profits.

It won't make any difference to the thousands of corporations that aren't making any profits to pay taxes on this year. As for profitable businesses, most of them already have provided for the taxes by taking it out of their customers.

TRAGEDY

Marie Zumbach, raised in a Joliet basement prison where her mother had kept her, for 17 years never saw daylight or breathed fresh air. When humane officers found her, she had the mind and body of a child of six.

Nothing can be done with Marie, says the best of medical science after months of labor. Dr. Sig-mund Krumholz pronounces the case hopeless, and says Marie must end her days in the condition she was found.

That shows the power and importance of good environment in youth. What happens to the sap-ling determines the tree.

KARNEBECK

You recall when the allies demanded that Hol-land hand over the ex-kaiser for trial. But Bill's still sawing wood on safe territory because Jon-keer H. A. Van Karnebeck, Dutch foreign minis-ter, refused to deport him.

Dutch law guaranteed asylum to Bill. That's all Karnebeck cared about, though it took nerve for a small country to turn down the powerful coalition of allies.

Now Karnebeck has been elected president of the League of Nations assembly. It's a good thing to have a respecter of law on that job. The world still appears to honor a man who has the courage of his convictions.

WINTER

A blizzard and 14 inches of snow are reported from Moose Jaw, Canada. Trappers and settlers up there say that a very severe winter is com-ing. Animals are growing heavy furs. Trees have thicker bark. Squirrels lay in big supplies of nuts. Salmon trout will spawn early, foresee-ing early freezing-over of lakes.

What is it that makes animals and vegetable life know whether winter will be severe or mild? If humans had that sixth sense, they'd be called clairvoyants. Or does it prove that nature is noth-ing but a chemical machine?

LEARN FROM BORNEO

Borneo builds a telegraph line with mahogany and ebony poles—cheap lumber there! Go price a solid mahogany or ebony table in a furniture store. You'll wish you were in Borneo.

Where things are plentiful, they are cheap. Potatoes, 18 cents a bushel on Michigan farms, retail about $2 a bushel across the Great Lakes.

Labor is not the greatest element of costs. Nei-ther is capital. What counts most is distance—from where things are plentiful to where they're scarce. And railroads don't get all of the dis-tance-toll. Middlemen see to that.

Only real and lasting solution of the cost of liv-ing is efficient transportation at just rates.

CHANGE

Manuel Estrada Cabrera, for 22 years president of Guatemala, in Central America, is convicted of murder and sentenced to death.

That couldn't have happened a few decades ago, when Central America was so corrupt that a man of Cabrera's influence could bribe himself out of any predicament. Value of human life down there has risen. Takes time, but the law comes to all parts of the world.

SLUMS

Healthiest place in New York City is the "lower east side" tenement district. This is shown by death records.

Does this overthrow theories about congestion breeding disease? It does not. The extraordinary showing, says an official report, is due to willing-ness of the foreign-born to follow Board of Health instructions.

Health, like accidents, is largely a matter of cau-tion.

KISSES

Japan bars kissing in movies. In the last six months, Jap censors removed 2350 kisses from films. That's because kissing is taboo in Japan, where the people are taught to suppress all emo-tions except patriotism.

In Japan, as in America, censors have an aver-sion to anything that isn't the custom. A rut pleases the censor, but it isn't the best road.

WIVES

Natives in British East Africa protest wage cuts because the price of wives still is 50 per cent above pre-war.

This cost of living problem is going to be a humdinger to solve. It bobs up, no matter how far away you go, even in the heart of the jungle.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

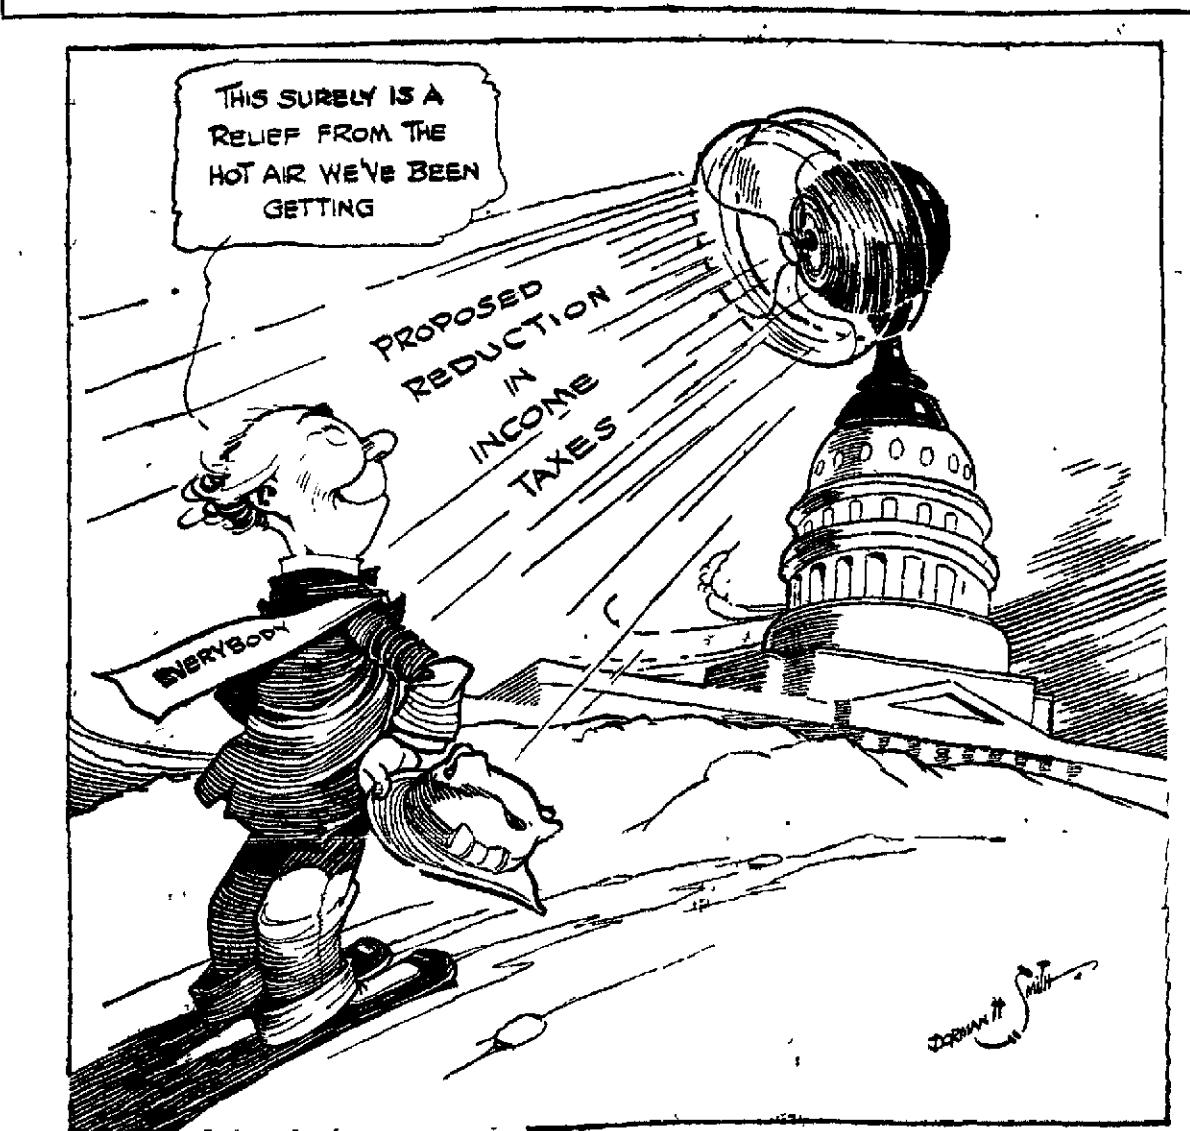

CAMELS DRAW YANK PLOWS

For the first time in many centuries something modern has appeared on the site of the ancient city of Carthage. There, where once flourished the arts of war and peace is a vast, lonely plain. Of the streets through which the conquering Han-nibal marched in triumph nothing now remains but the shadeless wheat fields. There may, how-ever, be seen the stalking camel plodding along drawing the modern American plow or cultivator.

The soil is as rich as it was on the day when the Phenicians founded the city, and the Ameri-can and his industries have found their way to the historic spot where the Romans wrought such devastation in their conquests. Americans, in charge of native workmen, may be seen directing the use of the modern farming implements in har-vesting and tilling the soil. These machines are a source of wonder to the natives, who for genera-tions employed only the crudest of farm imple-ments.

The place is on the northern coast of Africa, about ten miles from the present city of Tunis. Americans have found the market there for their inventions a lucrative one.—Washington Star

A REFRESHING BREEZE

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS
By Olive Barton Roberts

Cap'n Pennywinkle and Curly, his sea-horse, had had a terrible time while the Twins were away on their errand, and when they returned with the fish-net, there was the greatest commotion ever at the Cross Roads, where the fairman policeman was trying to keep order. You see Tub Terrapin was lying flat on his tummy right in the way of traffic and every-body had to go round. Cap'n Penny-winkle was so absorbed, trying to get him out of the way, that he didn't have time to direct the other big fishes that came swimming by. The first thing he knew, he'd had the old saw-fish pumped into a big sea-weed tree, not looking where he was going at all, at all, and the first thing everybody knew, his big sharp saw had cut the tree down and there it lay in every-body's way. As though that helped matters.

And the next thing, didn't Mr. Swordfish come blundering along with his long sharp nose, not looking where he was going and didn't he ram right into the big fish-trunk of the sea-weed tree and there, stuck, taking up all the spare room there was, nearly.

When the Twins returned, Cap'n Pennywinkle and Curly were prancing around, trying every-which-way to get Mr. Swordfish free. Mr. Shark had come to help and Mr. Hammerfish and Mr. Sturgeon and Macs Mackerel, and I can't tell you how many more. The only thing was that all the helpers had different ideas about getting Mr. Swordfish loose. Mr. Shark was for eating him at once, and if it hadn't been for Cap'n Pennywinkle's magic hodge, I'm afraid he would have done so.

And all on account of lazy Tub Ter-rapin. There Tub lay, as unconcerned as you please.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

ANSWER TO THE 'POT WATCHER'
I have read with interest the com-munication of the "Pot Watcher" which was published in The Tribune a few days ago.

Her picture of the down and out farmer, with a large family to keep and nothing to do with is a condition that is all too common in our state this year.

Clipping on in spite of continual crop failure, going further and farther in debt trusting that one good crop will save them, the farmers of North Da-kota, except those living in the more favored parts of the state, are in-deed in a precarious position. Add to this the fact that they are not receiv-ing the actual cost of production, to say nothing of profit, on what they did raise, and their condition becomes more appalling.

The "Pot Watcher" is right in de-claring that the remedy must not be held, that this expense must not be

NEW DISCOVERY

300-Candle Power Portable Lamp Pro-duces Pure White Light Without Wicks or Chimneys.
Science has at last produced a lamp that rivals sunlight. Pure white light of 300-candle power can be se-cured for only a few cents a day. This is a Godsend to people who must de-pend on old fashioned wick lamps, and who want to prevent eyestrain.

The "Sunray" is a portable lamp, constructed so that it can be operated safely in any position even upside down. There are no wicks to trim, no chimneys to clean, no dirt and no waste. The lamp will burn for a week on just a few cents worth of kerosene, coal oil or gasoline.

The manufacturers are making a special offer to introduce this lamp. They will give a "Sunray" lantern FREE to one person in each locality who will purchase a lamp and show it to their friends. Just write to the Knight Light Co., Dept. 168, Chicago, for full details of this generous offer. Don't delay. Be the one in your neigh-borhood to get the FREE lantern and agency proposition whereby you can earn $125.00 a week.

With the Movies

THE ELTINGE

The feature offering at the Eltinge today is "The Magnificent Brute," with Frank Mayo in the leading part, that of a French-Canadian trapper, that of a French-Canadian trapper.

Presented against an awe-inspiring scenic background of the mighty Yo-semite, the story deals with Victor Raoul, a fur trapper of the Canadian North who visits the haunts of civil-ization but once a year. He falls in love with the daughter of his partner, Yvonne, a Parisian bred girl who is strangely out of place in the wilder-ness and who toys with the big fel-low for sheer amusement. How he is accused a murder and escapes in the trackless forest, later to be saved by the girl, is just one of the incidents which leads to the whirlwind climax.

A furious man-hunt, a fight that the famous battle of "The Brute Breaker" for action, and a love story that starts with a spark and de-velops into an inferno, are additional situations which will keep the spec-tators in doubt as to the story's out-come until the last scene is reached.

Frank Mayo is said to be at his very best in the role of Victor Raoul, the giant of the north woods, whose passions are elemental and whose code of honor is primitive.

An Outing-Chester picture on the program shows the winter sports of Switzerland, including, skating, to-gogganing, ski jumping, etc. Joe Mar-tin, the educated chimpanzee furnishes the comedy.

AT THE BISMARCK THEATER.

Mr. Desmond, now playing the lead in "Women Men Love," appearing Monday at the Bismarck theater, is now playing the lead in what prom-ises to be one of the really great pro-ductions in the history of the screen. Oliver Morosco, in casting around for a suitable type to interpret on the silver sheet his famous play, "The Half Breed," bethought himself of Mr. Desmond—the idea being logical as "Bill" played it on the stage. Arrangements were made between a Sidney Ro-enthal, General Manager of Bradley Films, to whom Mr. Desmond is under contract, whereby the star was loaned to his former intimate man-

W. C. T. U. WOULD BAN ARBUCKLE FILMS IN STATE

Governor Frazier has endorsed an appeal of the state W. C. T. U., against showing Arbuckle pictures but he will issue no appeal to the moving picture theaters of the state not to show them. He received a telegram from Mrs. B. H. Wiley and Mrs. Kate Wilder, as a committee, named by the state W. C. T. U. convention at Park River, which read as follows:

"State convention of North Dakota Women's Christian Temperance Union implores you to ask the moving picture houses in North Dakota not to show Arbuckle pictures."

The Governor said that he en-dorsed the sentiment expressed in the telegram and hoped that Arbuckle films would not be shown unless he should be declared innocent by the courts.
